

The monthly newsletter for World Book Online

Get ready for the Back to School season!

As summer comes to an end, it's time to gear up for back-to-school preparations! World Book is ready to assist educators and parents in their educational endeavors by offering reliable, award-winning digital solutions, new print series releases, and professional development.

In this month's World Book Wired, we are sharing helpful resources to make your transition back to school easier.

Integrate World Book with tools you already use! Share content using direct links or by creating assignments using Google Classroom. This will save students time and make sure they find the correct resource.

The Building Blocks site was created as a supplement to various Building Blocks sets for both educators and students. The site includes activities, games, discussion guides, lesson plans, and more!
